

Summum® Media Agreement

Terms & Conditions

This agreement is made between Summum and

Name of media business, production company, publication, or author

Primary street address of media business, production company, publication, or author

City, State, Postal Code, Country

herein referred to as “The Media Company” for the purposes of this agreement.

Summum will consent to photography, filming, and interviews involving its philosophy, practices, and premises, and/or Summum will provide images and information involving its philosophy, practices, and premises under the following conditions (photography, filming, interviews, images, information, etc. are herein referred to as “Content”):

1. The Media Company agrees not to present, publish, release, or spotlight the Content in any format during the month of October – now or any time in the future during the month of October. The only exceptions are websites that may present the Content over a continuous and extended period of time. Websites may present the Content during the month of October provided the Content is not initially published in October and the Content is never featured or spotlighted during the month of October. In addition, websites may not associate the Content with Halloween.
2. The Media Company agrees not to present the Content in a format that portrays, represents, describes, or illustrates bizarre, wacky, ghoulish, or macabre forms of burial.
3. The Media Company agrees not to provide the Content to any other party*, now or in the future, with out the expressed written consent of Summum.
4. The Media Company understands and agrees that a violation of this agreement in any form as described in 1 or 2 above will cause irreparable harm to Summum. Further, the Media Company agrees to be liable for any such violation and understands that Summum may seek remedies for any damage that may occur.
5. This agreement shall be governed by the laws of the state of Utah, USA, and the Media Company consents to jurisdiction in Utah to enforce this agreement.

Media Company:

Summum:

Authorized Agent (print name)

Authorized Agent (print name)

Signature

Signature

Title

Title

Date

Date

* For purposes of this agreement, “party” means the following:

- Members of the press to include press officers, correspondents, writers, columnists or commentators
- Media companies and individuals involved in television, radio, magazine, book publishing, and Internet distribution
- Photographers